ENGAGEMENT MATTERS.

If a global pandemic taught us anything, it’s that Oregon State University alumni, friends, students and faculty are a resilient community that supports each other – through challenging times and with innovation.

Engagement is the backbone of a successful university community. With meaningful engagement sprinkled throughout the university, its people and its programs, Oregon State is stronger and better positioned to tackle the world’s most challenging issues.

Our engagement tracking model focusing on value has set a premise: Engagement directly supports donor identification and pipeline development and also delivers meaningful impact each and every time one engages.

Meaningful engagement leverages the affinity of event attendance, social media fans and Oregon Stater readers. It’s taking that extra step to interact with others in an impactful way that advances OSU’s missions and values. And that starts with the OSU Alumni Association.

The following information is a snapshot of the past year’s successes and highlights that have positioned our organization to excel in our priority outcomes of Student and Educational Success; Advocacy; and Diversity and Inclusion.

All of us at the OSUAA are grateful for the collaborations with the OSU Foundation and OSU partners that made this year so successful, and to our volunteers, donors and attendees who inspire us every day. Go Beavs!

'PIVOT’ IS THE WORD OF THE YEAR.

WHAT’S NEXT?
An OSU Alumni Association Podcast
“I know that without the resources and support from alumni career services, I would not be working in my current position that aligns perfectly with my career path.”

Victoria Lynch, ’14, Business Operations Specialist at Pacific Gas and Electric Company

“There’s a lot we can do to assist one another,” says Román Hernández, ’92, who helped launch the Vamos OSU Alumni Network. “We each have our individual histories with Oregon State, but I think we can meet with one another, develop relationships and collectively support Latino students at Oregon State and show them that there are opportunities beyond the educational experience.”

Alumni from around the world share words of encouragement and inspiration with OSU students through the You’ve Got This – BÉaver KIND campaign.
PILLARS OF ENGAGEMENT: PROMOTING MEANINGFUL OUTCOMES.

As the pioneers of engagement tracking, the OSU Alumni Association, along with the OSU Foundation, prides itself on being a conduit, partner and leader when it comes to creating meaningful engagement with our constituents and reporting the impact on our university, state, nation and world. Below is a snapshot of overarching university achievements supported by the goals and impacts created by the alumni association.

50% increase in Student and Educational Success

OSUAA GOAL: Alumni and friends will be directly accessible to 100% of OSU students for their career and professional development needs.

OSUAA IMPACT:
• 924 registered OSU Connections career network users
• 100 Career Ambassador volunteers (25% increase from FY20)
• OSUAA Board successfully launched a $100,000 scholarship endowment for students with financial need

77% increase in Advocacy

OSUAA / THE BEAVER CAUCUS GOAL: Along with our advocacy partner, The Beaver Caucus, the alumni and friends network will train and mobilize a cadre of OSU advocates in every voting district in Oregon.

IMPACT:
• 390 individuals engaged (153% increase from FY20)
• 778 Beaver Caucus members (86% increase from FY20)
• 100% legislative offices contacted by Beaver Caucus advocates
• All six of OSU’s state legislative priorities were funded ($1.36 billion)

“I wasn’t interested in doing politics at all until I joined the Presidential Student Legislative Advocates program at OSU,” says Quincy Johnson, ’21. “Once I got into that program and was able to go up to the State Capitol and advocate as a student, talk to legislators in person and share with them what students need to be able to do their work and give our voice to our students on campus; it was a very monumental experience. Since that experience, I’ve continued to advocate with The Beaver Caucus.”
569% increase in Diversity, Equity and Inclusion outcomes

OSUAA GOAL: The alumni and friends network will ensure that programs and events are accessible to all alumni and campus communities regardless of background, identity or affiliation.

OSUAA IMPACT:
- 110 identity and affinity network volunteers (including leaders) engaged

- Three new identity networks (60% increase from FY20), including:
